Heuristics are simple strategies that humans, animals, organizations and even machines use to quickly form judgments, make decisions, and find solutions to complex problems. Often this involves focusing on the most relevant aspects of a problem or situation to formulate a solution. We determine types of decision making by looking at outcomes and the impacted entity. At the highest level we have chosen to categorize decisions into three major types: Consumer decision making, business decision making, and personal decision making. Test how candidates analyze data and predict the outcome of each option before making a decision. Also, keep in mind that in some cases a creative decision that breaks from the norm could prove to be innovative and more effective than a traditional. But do remember, that sometimes similar situations are different in one significant way. Apr 26, 2020 · vision and decision making strength start at the top.
