In both the animal kingdom and human society, social hierarchy exists. You can think of social hierarchy as a type of ladder that categorizes people. Hierarchy is often based on factors like race, gender, and socioeconomic status. A social custom is an action or behavior that is considered to be acceptable within a specific group or cultural setting. These responses may include how a person greets another, the clothing they wear for specific events or the type of eye. A new study suggests that moods are contagious among circles of adolescent friends, and this is true both for negative and positive emotions. A new study in young adults has suggested that moods are contagious, and that teenagers are susceptible.
