Cooperative Peacekeeping in Africa (Bloomsbury 2018) 1-15 This book examines peacekeeping in Africa, exploring how the region has evolved on an African peacekeeping regime. The changing dynamics of peacekeeping in Africa’s today’s world have revealed a new cooperation between international and regional actors. This book offers a detailed examination of the cooperation between international and regional organizations in Africa, focusing on the role of African regional organizations (AROs) in cooperative peacekeeping. Through an analysis of case studies from the Central African Republic, Mali, and Somalia, the book examines the challenges and opportunities of cooperative peacekeeping in Africa, highlighting the importance of cooperation between international and regional actors in promoting peace and security.

In a Changing Global Order (Bloomsbury 2018) 1-20 This book examines the changing dynamics of the peacekeeping operations of the African regional organizations, focusing on the role of African regional organizations (AROs) in cooperative peacekeeping. Through an analysis of case studies from the Central African Republic, Mali, and Somalia, the book examines the challenges and opportunities of cooperative peacekeeping in Africa, highlighting the importance of cooperation between international and regional actors in promoting peace and security.

Regional Security Complexes and Cooperative Peacekeeping (Central African Republic and Western Africa) (2019) 1-25 This book examines peacekeeping in Africa, exploring how the region has evolved on an African peacekeeping regime. The changing dynamics of peacekeeping in Africa’s today’s world have revealed a new cooperation between international and regional actors. This book offers a detailed examination of the cooperation between international and regional organizations in Africa, focusing on the role of African regional organizations (AROs) in cooperative peacekeeping. Through an analysis of case studies from the Central African Republic, Mali, and Somalia, the book examines the challenges and opportunities of cooperative peacekeeping in Africa, highlighting the importance of cooperation between international and regional actors in promoting peace and security.
of these challenges, Africa today is faced with a stark choice: either unite or perish. The debate on why and how the continent should unite in terms of cooperative

The study of the micro-foundations of coherence allows for policy-relevant resonance with national norms on the use of force and modes of multilateral cooperation. In sum, this book offers systematic insight into EU crisis management and is contingent on the congruence of domestic economic and electoral interests, as well as national threat perceptions, and the extent to which EU-level coherence norms

The book argues that the EU represents a rather unpredictable security actor, whose multi-level coherence

This exceptional collection of analyses by experts from both the global North and South will be of interest to practitioners and scholars alike - highly recommended.” --Prof. Ramesh Thakur, Australian National University This open access volume explores how UN peace operations are adapting to fast trends in the changing global order: (1) the re-balancing of relations between states of the global North and the global South; (2) the rise of regional organizations as providers of peace; (3) the robustness of responses to various forms of state and non-state (transnational and sub-national) threats; (4) the increasing demands from non-state actors for greater participation in the conduct of peace operations, including the participation of women; (5) the context of threat shifts to the global order (rise of emerging powers, North-South rebalancing, emergence of regional organizations as providers of peace). The various analyses evaluate how peacemaking processes are affected, offering an analysis of how the adversary landscape is continuously moving across the changing global order and its implications for UN peace operations.

Securing Peace in Africa

African Politics and IR in general.

clarifies the conceptual and empirical boundaries of the comprehensive approach. Finally, the study of the micro-foundations of coherence allows for policy-relevant cases, namely Libya in 2011, Somalia in 2011-2012, and the Sahel in 2012-2013. It analyses the activities and interaction of EU institutional actors and member states, with a focus on France, the United Kingdom, and Germany. The book argues that the EU has decayed into a rather uncoordinated and ineffective international security actor. It also

African Politics and IR in general.

African Politics and IR in general.

African Politics and IR in general.

African Politics and IR in general.

African Politics and IR in general.

African Politics and IR in general.

African Politics and IR in general.

African Politics and IR in general.

African Politics and IR in general.

African Politics and IR in general.

African Politics and IR in general.

African Politics and IR in general.

African Politics and IR in general.

African Politics and IR in general.