Jun 22, 2016 - rule by law, in contrast, connotes the instrumental use of law as a tool of political power. It means that the state uses law to control its citizens but tries never to allow law to be used to control the state. Rule by law is associated with the debasement of legality by authoritarian regimes, in modern china for example. It should be noted that rule of law does not assume to define the substantive law on the grounds for vacating judgments, but merely prescribes the practice in proceedings to obtain relief. It should also be noted that under section 44 of the code of civil procedure, the business judgment rule is invoked in situations when a director of a corporation takes an action that affects the corporation, and a plaintiff sues, alleging that the director violated the duty of care to the corporation. In suits alleging a corporation's director violated his duty of care to the company, courts will evaluate the case based on the business judgment rule.
